

Rev. L. C. Lockwood

Marriage Registry

By June 1861, the abolitionist-dominated American Missionary Association (A.M.A) was making plans to send teachers and books to educate the 700 Negroes within Union lines in Virginia.

The Reverend L. C. Lockwood went to Fortress Monroe in early September and opened a Sunday school. Two days later a day school for freedmen was established near the site where the first shipload of slaves landed in America in 1619. The school was a success, and several more schools and churches were started under A.M.A. auspices in subsequent months.

Rev. L. C. Lockwood was the Chaplain of the "Contrabands" at Fortress Monroe.
